The Department of Computer Engineering at the University of California, Santa Cruz (UCSC) invites applications for a position at the Assistant Professor (tenure-track) level. We seek outstanding applicants with appropriate expertise, established records, and exceptional potential for research in Robotics. We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in robotic manipulation, grasping, haptics, and dexterous manipulation with applications to service robotics, autonomous transportation, assistive and medical robotics, or other related areas. Complementarity of research to the other areas of computer engineering, including networks, sensors, control systems, and computer hardware, will be evaluated.

The successful candidate will join our vibrant program in Robotics and Control, that has been active for over a decade and includes an undergraduate Robotics Engineering degree program, and will be expected to maintain an active research program, obtain external funding, teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Computer Engineering, mentor and advise students at the graduate and undergraduate level, and perform University and professional service. The successful candidate must be able to work with students, faculty and staff from a wide range of social and cultural backgrounds. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, research, and/or service.
